BRITISH COLUMBIA

A proposition has been offered in the Legislature to grant a subsidy to secure a semi weekly communication with Puget Sound.

The Victoria papers print tables to show that British Columbia will save money in the administration of government by annexation to the Dominion of Canada.

The passage of the Confederation terms, says the Colonist, has had a very marked and favorable effect upon the community. There was no noisy outcroppings of enthusiastic feeling, but every one seems gratified with the result, and prophecies of a long and prosperous career for the Colony under the liberal rule of Canada are everywhere heard.

At Victoria the City Fathers have decided to apply to the Legislature for amendment of the Fire Act, so as to raise the rate from one eighth of one per cent to one-sixth of one per cent, and also to levy an annual license upon each of the fire insurance companies doing business in the city of $250 per annum, for the relief of the Fire Department.

The Colonist of the 20th says: By passengers who came down on the Enterprise it is reported that Mr Johnson, the Cariboo mail contractor, is lost. He left New Westminster for Yale in a canoe a week ago last Monday with an Indian and two squaws, reached Sea Bird Bar and from there took the land route. The snow was some four or five feet deep. The Indian succeeded in getting as far as Hicks' ranch, and reported that Johnson and the others were behind. Hicks went out to search for them, and not having since been heard from is supposed also to be lost. One of the Indian women was subsequently found dead in the snow.

Refinement of Robbery

A GRACELESS, HEARTLESS WRETCH

The Salem Mercury of last Saturday gives its readers the following account of a scientific bilk and matrimonial speculator:

About two months since a marriage was solemnized in this city between Mrs Barker, a widow lady, and one W B Chandler, a smooth, easy-going sort of fellow, a [illegible] maker by trade, who had passed the [illegible] which entitled him to be classed among you[illegible], men though by no means old in appearance. Chandler had been employed in th[illegible] about two years, working most of the t[illegible] in the shop of Mr Gilbert on Commercial [illegible]. There was nothing particularly fascin[ating] in the appearance or address of this [illegible]. There was, however, a cold, indifferent [illegible] air about him not apparent to an eye not educated in the art of reading a person's character in his physiognomy. He was dark complected, of medium height and rather heavy set, dark hair and whiskers, and was inclined to over tidiness as regarded his toilet. It is not definitely known, we believe, whence he came, and whither he goeth of course no person in this place has any well defined idea.

The nuptials were celebrated on Sunday, we believe, and on Monday the bride and bridegroom took a train for Portland on their way to San Francisco where the former was heartlessly abandoned. Before leaving Salem this wretch managed to get possession of five thousand dollars of his wife's money she confiding in him as an honest and honorable gentleman. Not only this, he got possession of his step-daughter's watch, a keepsake from her father, under the pretence that he desired to get her name handsomely engraved on the case while in San Francisco. The watch, we are told, was worth $150. Not satisfied with the five thousand dollars coin and the valuable watch he had robbed the artless girl of, he suggested the propriety of a safe deposit of the plate and silverware belonging to the betrayed one who called him husband, to the value of over $1,000, until their return home. His suggestion meeting with favor he lugged the said valuables off and pawned them for more cash! And, as if resolved upon the complete robbery of his hapless victim, he made an effort to dispose of a house belonging to her, at a low figure, just before taking his departure.

We have read of, and seen, and known many villains, but for studied, matured and complete rascality this villain, Chandler, taking all in all, is the most thorough of any which it has been our misfortune to encounter.

The Penitentiary Commission

In an article on the investigation by the Commission on Penitentiary Accounts the Statesman has the subjoined:

As to the results of the investigation we learn that after the inquisition into the affairs of the State Treasurer, which went farther than seems to us possible to justify, because it sought to penetrate his private business relations that gentleman comes out without a flaw. Some trifling clerical errors were found, but all the election clamor about his use and abuse of the funds hoarded in the State Treasury is demolished by means of a Democratic investigation. The bankers of Oregon were all summoned before this committee and they testify that while he had large sums deposited with them, he received no interest thereon, and it seems that these deposits were made at the suggestion of his sureties, who deemed the bank vaults more safe than the State Treasury. Then, too this trio of inquisitors found out that while Mr Cooke had hundreds of thousands of dollars of gold coin belonging to the State locked up in his possession, he was borrowing and paying interest on money elsewhere to some extent and his son in law, who was accused of building his fine block of buildings with the funds of the State, proved that at that time he was a borrower to the full extent of his necessities elsewhere. The President of the P. T. Co being put on the stand to answer if that company had ever been accommodated with heavy loans of money from the State Treasury, not only showed that it had not but that instead the company had loaned the State Treasurer money for his individual uses. These are among the interesting facts which have become matter of official record by means of this investigation, and which are to be found spread upon its voluminous journals. We most sincerely congratulate the Democracy of Oregon on its success in proving the official integrity of Mr Cooke, which it has twice done at no inconsiderable expense.

Now what Democracy has, with its usual cleverness, accomplished is this: The State pays about $3 000 costs of the Commission. It will eventually pay five or ten thousand dollars interest on these suspended warrants which might as well have been paid last fall. It has caused delay and loss to the men who own these warrants and want to use the money, and that is all, save a considerable legal expense to be incurred in defending suits against the State Treasury. Well! yes! there is one thing more they have blunderingly accomplished, though innocent of any intention; that is they have at each of the last sessions of the Assembly shown positively that under Republican rule the State Treasury was managed so well that investigations only result in showing that every malicious charge Democracy has made in relation to it is entirely false.

Gen Abbott from North Carolina states as the ground of his contest that all the votes for ex Governor Vance having been cast for a person who was ineligible, were absolutely void, and that consequently he, Abbott, received a majority of the legal votes cast by the Legislature. This he claims, is the English as well as the American law.

German Losses.

VERSAILLES, Jan 26.—The official list of losses in the First Army at St. Quentin is 94 officers and 3,000 men.

Rumors Unconfirmed.

LONDON, Jan 26.—On inquiry at the German Legation here (at London) it was ascertained that no information of the capitulation of Paris has been received there, nor at the British foreign offices. At a late hour last night reports that Favre had made propositions for capitulation remained unconfirmed.

VERSAILLES, Jan. 25.—Favre returned to Paris yesterday.

ARLON, Jan 26.—The French garrison of Longwy has been sent to Thionville and [illegible]. By the terms of capitulation the National Guards are not prisoners.

Bloody Riot in Paris

NEW YORK, Jan 28.—A Times correspondent gives further details of the bloody [illegible] the Republican mob and Reds [illegible] the Hotel de Ville. About noon on the 22d about [illegible] hundred villainous looking Reds, including a large number of soldiers and the 101st battalion of the National Guards marched in a body to a place in front of the Hotel de Ville, uttering [illegible] cries, and calling upon the citizens to [illegible]. Never since the present troubles has a [illegible] been seen, bringing so vividly to mind the horrors of the old French Revolution. They occupied the place over an hour without any opposition, shouting and yelling. In the meantime the Guarde Mobiles and Britons were drawn up in front of the Hotel de Ville, who stood their ground avoiding any collision with the mob by all means in their power. After one o'clock an Adjutant in command advanced in front of the men on account of a threatening demonstration by the crowd and was fired upon and fell severely wounded. Immediately the Mobiles fired on the crowd creating terrible havoc. A number of persons lookers on encouraged by the length of time which had elapsed without violence, were drawn in front of the Hotel de Ville, and received shots from the Mobiles. The crowd fled, and 50 of their number were left on the ground. It was afterward ascertained that five were killed and eighteen wounded. At the same time the Mob [illegible] fired, a number of muskets were discharged from the windows of houses on each side of the place occupied by the rioters. Three or four Mobiles fell from the fire which was badly directed. The old casemates above the statue of Henry Quatre were completely riddled with bullets. After several rounds were fired the Mobiles withdrew from the building, and a large force of the National Guardes came, with Gen Vinoy at their head. As they approached the rioters left the houses and fled, the Guardes allowing them to escape without shooting or arresting them. It is said Flourens was prominent among the rioters before the fighting began, but was not seen afterward.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—Dispatches from Brussels say the Germans are before Maubeige, and its bombardment is expected. Citizens are preparing to defend the place.

The seige of Langmichaelbeck is raised.

The Prussians are concentrating at St Quentin, and have reappeared before Cambria, and occupied Marquis.

Sharpshooters surprised a party of Uhlans, and captured a godson of the Empress Augusta. They refused to exchange him for French prisoners, and have placed him in the hospital of Cambria exposed to bombardment.

Capitulation of Paris

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Paris capitulated on the 27th. Terms: the surrender of the garrison and summoning of a National Assembly.

Terms of the Capitulation

LONDON, Jan 28.—Favre was in conference with Bismarck at midnight. Bismarck carried his point. The capitulation involves peace, the cession of Alsace and German Lorraine, and part of the fleet, a money indemnity to be granted by the municipalities, a portion of the German army to return home, and the war to close. It is necessary that some territory be retained to secure the fulfillment of the compact. The Mobiles are to be sent home, and the German army to enter Paris. The Emperor will return immediately to Berlin.

LONDON, Jan 27.—An official dispatch, dated Versailles, Friday morning, says Favre returned yesterday to Paris. He will come to Versailles again to-day, accompanied by a military officer, for the purpose of settling the terms of capitulation. There has been no firing on either side since last Thursday.

Particulars of the Negotiations

LONDON, Jan 27.—The following particulars have been received of the first visit of Favre to the German headquarters at Versailles. It appears that Favre arrived at Versailles on the 23d in Bismarck's carriage, which had been sent to the Prussian outposts to receive him. He was much fatigued, but drove at once to the Chancellor's office. After a long interview he took dinner with Bismarck. The latter held a conference with the Emperor Kaiser at 11 o'clock the same night.

Odo Russell, the representative of the British Foreign Office, had been apprised beforehand of the approaching visit of Favre.

Bourbaki Superseded

BORDEAUX, Jan 27.—It is officially announced that Gen Clinthort is appointed to the command of the First Army in place of Bourbaki, who is no longer able to perform active service. The latter seems to have momentary mental aberration and attempted unsuccessfully to commit suicide with a pistol.

MADRID, Jan. 27.—Mattos, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has issued a circular to the diplomatic representatives of Spain, throughout the world upon the foreign policy of the monarchy. The document contains these words: We desire to live at peace with all nations. It deplores the prolongation of war between France and Prussia, says the accession of King Amadeus has already been recognized by the Governments of France, Italy and Belgium, and concludes by saying that new government desires to establish the former cordial relations of Spain with the Pope.

San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 28.—John Short Jr late pound keeper, more recently of the Mint, while conversing with his family, in apparently perfect health, fell down and died from apoplexy.

The number of deaths in this city during the past week are unusually large.

The weather is clear and cool. Wind fresh from the northwest.

It has transpired that Ah Hung, who killed a countryman on Dupont street last week, was hamstrung by his countrymen in the northern part of the State some years ago as a punishment for crime. The Chinese merchants threaten that if he is not hanged in this case, they will take justice in their own hands.

Matthew Clausen a sailor, hunting near the San Mateo line on Tuesday, was pulling his gun behind him when both barrels were discharged, the charges of buck shot striking him in the back. He was taken to the Marine hospital where he lingered in great agony and finally died.

The steamer Colorado from Panama, now a little overdue, has not yet been telegraphed.

The news of the fall of Paris creates very slight excitement here, the event having been so long looked for. A few rockets and fire crackers were let off by individuals.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 29.—The day has been one of the finest of the season—dry and warm—in the evening clear, with cold wind fresh from the N. W.

The political pot is boiling briskly. A number of candidates for high State offices are in town from the interior to day talking business and putting up slates.

The Germans had some impromptu speaking and formed a procession, which went around the principal streets late last night, but they are making grand preparations for a celebration on a grand scale to morrow night. The Board of Supervisors will be asked to adjourn in honor of the event. The French generally do not yet fully credit the report of the fall of Paris, and are confident that in any event, the war is as far from an end as ever. Many German and some French national flags were displayed in the city to day.

A party of sailors from the U S steamer Pensacola, on shore on leave to-day, fell into the hands of Barbary coast pirates and were robbed of everything they had. One lost $500 and a watch, and the others less amounts. The police brought in the thieves.

Nothing yet of the steamer Colorado from Panama now overdue. Heavy foggy weather has [illegible] delayed her.

Our Proposed Acquisition.

The duty of the Commission that has gone to San Domingo to report facts bearing upon annexation, is defined in the resolution adopted by Congress, under which the Commissioners have been appointed. They are to inquire into, ascertain and report the "political state and condition of the Republic of Dominica, the probable number of inhabitants, and the desire and disposition of the people of said Republic to become annexed to and form part of the people of the United States, the physical, mental and moral condition of said people, and their general condition as to material wealth and industrial capacity; the resources of the country; its mineral and agricultural products, the products of its waters and forests, the general character of soil, the extent and proportion thereof capable of cultivation, the climate and health of the country; its bays, harbors and rivers; its general meteorological character, existence and frequency of remarkable meteorological phenomena; the debt of the Government and its obligations, whether funded and admitted, or unadjusted and under discussion; treaties and engagements with other powers; extent of boundaries and territory; what proportion is covered by foreign claimants, or by grants or concessions, and generally what concessions or franchises have been granted, with names of respective grantees; the terms and conditions on which the Dominican Government may desire to be annexed to and become part of the United States as one of the Territories thereof, and such other information with respect to said Government or its Territories as to the Commissioners shall seem desirable or important with reference to future incorporation of the Dominican Republic into the United States as one of its Territories." It was further expressly stipulated by Congress that neither the above instructions nor the report of the commission should be understood to commit our Government to the policy of annexation, but that stipulation was unnecessary. The act of annexation will pass upon its merits and after the fullest investigation, if it passes at all.

The Union Pacific.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company, in order to show that the Government ought to pay up the interest on their bonds without grumbling, recently issued a bulletin in which they attempted to make it appear that the Government has saved already by the cheaper transportation afforded by the railroad, nearly ten millions of dollars, or more than one-quarter of the whole amount of bonds issued by the Government to the Company. They argue therefore that the Government ought not to hesitate to pay the interest, since it has saved so much money by means of the railroad that it can afford to pay it.

This view is narrowly special. The Company want to make money out of their investment, and are unwilling that the Government or rather the people, of the United States should gain anything by their investment in the road. Doubtless money has been saved to the Government by the cheaper and quicker transportation which the road has afforded, but that is the very thing the country aimed at when it aided in the construction of the road. That is why its credit was loaned to the enterprise. The argument at the time was not that it was desirable to create boundless wealth for the company, but that the road would add to the efficiency of our military forces in the overland country, afford quicker and cheaper transportation for the mails, and enable the United States to concentrate troops on the Pacific coast in case of an attack by an enemy in this quarter. Hence the people aided in the construction of the road, or rather virtually constructed it and turned it over to the company and now they want that company to meet the obligations incurred. If the Government is to pay the expenses of the road and meet its liabilities, it should also have its earnings.

As another evidence of the standing enjoyed by the Herald in its own party, we quote the following from the Eugene Guard, the Democratic organ of Lane county: "The Journal anxiously asks if the Daily Herald has suspended. It is evident that it has suspended, so far as this journal is concerned; and thereat we rejoice. We have not had a copy of the 'party organ' inflicted on us for about three weeks, and our cup of joy was filled to overflowing. We are truly glad that we have some one to enjoy our bliss with us. Why not stop the weekly? We have not the slightest use for it, as it never has contained an original idea, nor an item of news since we first made its acquaintance." Now that's "barnacled over," and comes in with startling suggestiveness right after Fay's letter. It is the keen thrust of the swordfish succeeding the terrible blows of the thrasher. The "organ," lubberly leviathan, can find no place for escape.

Eastern papers publish the voluminous correspondence of Secretary Fish with Minister Motley which, as the Washington Chronicle says was called for by the known friends of the President who fully believed that it would of itself vindicate that official. It is very severe on both sides; but it clearly reveals the fact that Mr. Motley did exceed, and indeed actually disobey, instructions. It seems also to sustain the assertion of the President, that the removal of Mr. Motley was contemplated long before any rupture between President Grant and Senator Sumner on the San Domingo question. That the President was in his action even hastened by the unexpected hostility of Mr. Sumner is explicitly denied by Mr. Fish.

The bill to abolish the income tax which passed the Senate last week had passed the House some time before. This is one of the "war taxes" which has been most assailed. There is a difference of opinion as to the propriety of repealing it; but its repeal was strongly recommended by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, which doubtless had much effect. It is to be noted that under Republican management the extraordinary taxes caused by the war are being swept away as fast as possible. At each session of Congress steps are taken in that direction, and the process will go on as the condition of the finances still further improve, so as to make it practicable.

The New York Herald notices it as an "extraordinary fact" that "the great annexation party before the war, the Democrats, in solid front are opposed to the annexation of San Domingo." It says they oppose simply because they "feel themselves bound to oppose Grant," no matter what measure he may propose. It is not intelligent, but blind, factious opposition.

A Little Game and How it Was Spoiled.

The history of a certain mandamus which recently made its appearance in Salem, we are told is something like this: The reports of the outgoing State officers last fall were printed by the retiring State Printer, before the present State Printer came into office. Now, Mr. Thomas Patterson, the present State Printer, was aggrieved at this, for he thought he ought to have had the work. But the work was already done, and regrets were unavailing. Another resource, however, was left him. He would prevent his predecessor from getting pay for the work. This was the more necessary from the fact that the appropriation made for the printing at the recent session of the Legislature would not cover all the work which the present State Printer hoped to do, executed as that work is under the system of "gross frauds" condemned by a committee of the recent Democratic Legislature. Therefore it became important to prevent the former Printer from getting his pay, so that the present printer might obtain the appropriation. Report has it that the present Printer thereupon went to the State Treasurer to prevail on him to refuse to pay the former Printer's bills. The Treasurer assented to the demand, and the former Printer was told that he couldn't have any money. The thing, therefore, seemed altogether lovely for Mr. Printer Patterson. He would "soak up" the whole of the appropriation by means of the aforesaid "gross frauds," and his predecessor could go to some future Legislature and ask for his pay. But the former Printer couldn't see it. He didn't like the programme. Therefore he went before the Judge of the Third District and applied for a mandamus, to compel the Treasurer to pay his bills out of the fund appropriated for the printing. The application was heard and the writ was ordered to issue. The former Printer therefore got his money, and Mr. Printer Patterson didn't absorb the entire appropriation as he expected to do. He is reported to be very decidedly down on that thing called a mandamus, which snatches away money that he had planned to put in his pocket. A feature of this proceeding, interesting to the people of this State, is the cost they are compelled to incur in the matter. Mr. Printer Patterson's little game, detailed above, only cost the State $125. But that isn't much. It can go into the account of "gross frauds," where it will only figure as a mere trifle.

Northern Pacific R. R. Bonds.

The bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, secured by first mortgage, are advertised in all the principal journals of the Eastern States. They are also extensively advertised in Europe. Under the sagacious management of Jay Cooke & Co., with a banking house in London to make these bonds a specialty, the finances of the Company, with the credit afforded by the most munificent, extensive and valuable of land grants, certainly ought to be in good condition.

The bonds are issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000, bearing interest in gold at 7-30 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly. The bonds are payable in coin at the end of thirty years, and are free from United States tax. They are at all times receivable at 10 per cent. above par in payment for the Company's lands, at the lowest cash prices. The Trustees under the mortgage will directly and permanently represent the interest of the bondholders, and who are required to see that the proceeds of the land sales are used in purchasing and canceling the mortgage bonds, if they can be bought before maturity, at not more than 10 per cent. premium; otherwise they are to invest the proceeds of the land sales in United States bonds or real estate mortgages for the benefit of the bondholders. They are to have at all times in their control as security, at least five hundred acres of average land to every $1,000 of outstanding first mortgage bonds, besides the railroad itself and all its equipments. Messrs. Jay Cooke & Co. say:

> With the same entire confidence with which we commend government bonds to capitalists and people, we now, after the fullest investigation, recommend these Northern Pacific Railroad bonds to our friends and the general public.

The New York Independent, in its financial article in a recent issue, said:

> We have carefully examined the whole matter from beginning to end. We have also examined and verified all the facts and figures presented, and do not hesitate an instant to say that we most sincerely believe that the bonds offered by this corporation are good and safe beyond all question. We recommend them for permanent investment. No other bond or security on the market, of any kind or from any quarter, has been more carefully guarded on every point. The highly respected bankers who have pledged their names and fortunes to this grand movement have honestly meant to make these bonds the leading and favorite security with the people. This road once opened and these bonds—in our judgment, and at no distant future—must command a considerable premium.

It is stated that the banking house established in London to place these bonds on the European market is under the direction of Hon Hugh McCulloch, late Secretary of the Treasury.

Caustic Censure.

The New York Tribune has a terribly severe article on the confirmation of Admiral Porter, whose letter against General Grant in 1865, and whose most abject apology therefor to President Grant in 1870, have given Porter unenviable notoriety. We quote an extract from the Tribune's article:

> We now know precisely what qualities they are which, in the opinion of patrician law givers, entitle men to the highest positions in the State. The young men of the country are told to be vain and libelous, and captious and servile; to abuse their comrades behind their backs and to fawn upon them before their faces, to use the currish wit of Diogenes against their equals and copy the abasement of an Odalisque before her master when a President frowns. Now let the Senate change the Admiral's uniform to one embracing a lackey's shoulder knot and yellow plush breeches to indicate faintly that inward servility that passeth show, and let General Grant be on his guard against the unsealed malice of the man he has humiliated by a public pardon and to whom the Senate has given opportunity to exercise his mean malignity upon those officers of the navy who still preserve a little of self respect.

The consumption of cane sugar in the United States during the year 1870 was 510,692 tons of 2,240 pounds. Total number of pounds consumed, 1,188,750,080. This does not include the consumption of sugar made from the beet, from sorgho, or from the sugar maple tree. The total consumption is ten per cent. greater than that of any previous year. That our people have been able to take and pay for so vast a quantity of sugar, which in other countries is regarded more as a luxury than a necessity, certainly speaks well for their resources, and is to be taken as an indication of at least an average prosperity of the masses.

A cotemporary unappishly responds to a recent statement of ours, that the Democratic party did not rebel. Did not the Democratic party inaugurate rebellion in the South? There were no Republicans in that section If it was not Democrats who rebelled who on earth was it?

The New York Free Press, a Democratic paper that flies the banner of Allen G Thurman for President, and John Quincy Adams for Vice President, has the following

> After all the fuss and racket kicked up about Chinese labor it will not amount to anything damaging. The Chinamen are not resolved upon overflowing this country, but have suddenly ceased coming to it. Thus a fruitful source for demagogism is averted.

Will Gov. Grover take notice? No man has been so full of "demagogism" on this subject as he. The above extract from a Democratic paper rates him and other little demagogues of his size, at about their true value.

A Eugene paper says that no wheat has yet been sold in that place at a higher figure than 80 cents.

The First Lecture of the Course will be delivered by the REV. THOS. CONDON, of The Dalles, on Tuesday Evening, Jan'y 31, 1871,

At 7½ o'clock.

Subject—"A Description of Three Stone Heads, The Country from which They Came and The Times in which They Lived."

The Science of Geology is assuming so much importance in its relations to historical questions, especially to the Creation and the Race of Man, that every one should know something of its principles and keep pace with its results.

The Rev. Mr. Condon has given many years to the study of this, his favorite science, and can give more general information on the subject in a single lecture than can be gleaned by months of reading. He has made the Geology of Oregon a Specialty, and by his untiring efforts and at great expense, has collected a fine cabinet of Specimens, many of which will be on exhibition the evening of the Lecture. As a speaker he is plain, consecutive and comprehensive, and although he is obliged to travel over a vast field within the limits assigned, yet he does not disappoint by unsatisfactory brevity or evasive generalities. Those who heard him last winter need no other inducement to come again; and to those who did not we can promise a literary feast. ja28dtf

CITY.

Attempted Elopement —We have learned the particulars of an extraordinary attempt of a respectable young lady to elope with a worthless fellow in the vicinity of McMinnville recently It appears that the young lady in question was of one of the best families of Yamhill county The fellow with whom she attempted to elope is a worthless vagabond who has been recently discharged from driving stage on the West Side line On last Wednesday the two started out of McMinnville on foot Their absence was soon discovered and a number of citizens started in pursuit One of the pursuers at last found the girl hid away in the woods He attempted to persuade her to return home but she refused and it was not until he threatened to use force that she would comply with his request The parents of the girl have sent her to the Sisters' School at Salem, hoping to redeem her from the fatal infatuation with which she seems possessed The fellow with whom this silly girl is enamored is described as a loathsome drunkard, without a single redeeming trait of character to recommend him to any one.' There is certainly no accounting for tastes in this country

Shipping Items —The lighthouse surveying steamer Shubrick sailed from Astoria last Thursday morning for San Francisco

The Geo S Wright sailed from the Columbia river on Saturday morning for Sitka

The Lerona from Puget Sound, is expected to arrive at Astoria soon to take the place of the U S Grant, under the command of Captain Gray, in the trade of Astoria with the forts and points around the bay

The bark Hattie C Besse, having filled her hold, is taking a deck load of spars at the Oak Point mills and will sail in a few days for Hong Kong China

The brig Madawaska is discharging a cargo of railroad material at Clinton's Point dock The vessel is open for charter

The business of Mr Flowerdew, of the firm of Hewett, Flowerdew & Co, who started for England a short time ago, is stated to be the establishment of a regular line of sailing vessels between Liverpool and Portland

"Overland Through Asia"—This is the title of a book by Thomas W Knox, one of the brilliant coterie of correspondents, who gained celebrity by masterly letters to the leading journals of the country during the war Mr Knox was connected with the New York Herald at that time and after the war was over he published a volume entitled the "Camp Fire and Cotton Field," which gained much attention. Subsequently he undertook an overland journey through Asia His book, the product of this journey, is now laid before the public It treats of subjects which our commercial relations with Asia, present and prospective, make very interesting. It is a book of travels in a new and hitherto almost unknown field, and presents information which is very instructive and valuable The book is advertised in our columns to-day The agent, B R Laird, will commence a canvass of the city this week

Passengers for California.—The N P T Co.'s steamship Idaho, Gregory, commander, sailed at 3 P M Saturday, for San Francisco She took the following list of passengers Chas McLaren, S Turner, J Baldwin, C H Dallas, W E Lair, J H Cummings, Capt S W Purcerlair, F G McCown, S C Wills, L N Robb J J Hackney, Rev E S Salomon and servant, C Fishel, Mrs C M Denton, Mr Thame, Mrs Green, Mrs Stantow, A C Gibbs, Miss Whitcomb, Mrs M Field, Miss Carrie Catching, Mrs Whitcomb and two children, Miss Whitcomb L L Whitcomb, Lieut M Crawford, J P Catching, H Gans, J P Laird, J Flanagan, Geo A Piper, B O Sunert, Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Messenger, and 16 in the steerage

Pacific Coast Directory.—We are just in receipt of the "Pacific Coast Business Directory for 1871-3," compiled by Henry G Langley, editor of the California State Register, the Pacific Coast Almanac, etc The Directory proper contains 712 pages of names and postoffice addresses of merchants, manufacturers and professional men, and an immense compilation of statistics of all the Pacific States and Territories, together with a gazetteer of the counties, cities and towns, with the names of Federal, State and municipal officers attached thereto, and an exhibit of the resources of the Pacific coast. It is a valuable work

Charge of Rape.—On Friday, a man named Brigman was examined before Justice Garwood of Powell's Valley precinct, on the charge of committing a rape upon a girl under fourteen years old. The principal witnesses were two young men named Welch and Van Kune, between whom and Brigman there had been an old family difficulty These witnesses testified to having witnessed a criminal act committed, by Brigman upon the girl, last Tuesday, and the justice held the accused to answer in the sum of $1,000.

That Circular —Allusion has been made in this paper to a "beastly circular" which was recently strewn broadcast throughout the city We learn that the same bawdy and corrupting missive has been mailed to the address of persons at nearly all the postoffices throughout the State. The authors seem determined to publish their own shame as widely as possible It is really astonishing how callous some people are to the better feelings of the human heart when a dollar is to be made by pandering to that which is base and vile

The Vieuxtemps Brothers—Will sing and play several pieces on Tuesday evening for the opening lecture of the Young Men's Christian Association On Wednesday they will give the only concert they will be able to give, in Salem On Tuesday evening, February 6th, the benefit concert for the U P Church of Albany, will come off, after which they will return to this city and open classes in vocal music, due notice of which will be given in a few days

Personal —Capt. Richard Hoyt, late in command of the Fannie Troup, has been promoted to the position of Port Captain in the O S N Co's line of steamers The position is one of the most desirable in the gift of the Co

Presentation

HANDSOME COMPLIMENT TO GOVERNOR SALOMON

As Governor Salomon was leaving the St Charles Hotel for the steamer on Saturday, he was presented with a neatly framed picture of the Emperor of Germany, surrounded by his prime minister, his personal staff and his corps commanders The gift was accompanied with the following note

Governor E S Salomon—Dear Sir We the undersigned, beg leave to present to you the accompanying picture as a token of our great esteem and respect

We are, sir, your true and grateful friends,

Signed—C A Alisky, A Bushwiler, C Schumacher Th Pilkman, A Burkhard, A L grand, C A Landenberger, A Staender, F Miller, C Hegele

The presentation was made at the last moment of the Governor's stay, and was altogether a surprise—though we doubt not a most gratifying one—to the recipient The Governor though actually on his way to the steamer acknowledged the compliment in brief but handsome terms

AMUSEMENTS

Oro Fino Theater —The nautical drama of "Ben Bolt" was produced for the first time in Portland, Saturday evening. It is a lively play with a rapid succession of incidents, changes of scene, and situations, dramatic and comic Mrs Bates plays Ben Bolt, Master of the sloop Alice and afterward of the ship Antelope, and, as in most of her male characters, furnishes a very fine personation Vinson is the heavy villain—the miller whose "mill wheel has fallen to pieces" the owner of the old mill whose "rafters have all tumbled in," and the rival of Ben Bolt in the affections of "Sweet Alice." Mr Bates and Miss Ingles do the laughable comedy parts as the youthful lovers and afterwards the "parents" of an extensive family Miss Cummings is "Sweet Alice" The entertainment closed with the very laughable burletta of "Lend me Five Shillings." The same bill will be presented again to night, for the last time To-morrow evening Miss Nellie Cummings will take a benefit, when the comedy of "The little Treasure" will be offered

Vieuxtemps Concert —At two o'clock Saturday afternoon the Vieuxtemps Brothers gave a fine selection of instrumental and vocal pieces to about seven hundred ladies and children at Philharmonic Hall The hall was filled almost to suffocation, every possible seat and foot of standing room being occupied by the little folks The brothers are announced to play or sing several pieces before and after the lecture by Mr Condon to morrow evening

Equine Drama —The Bates Dramatic management has effected at engagement with Miss Leo Hudson, to produce a number of her specialties in the line of equine drama She will make her first appearance next Saturday evening, but we are not advised as to the piece with which she will open

Seward at Pekin

The China Courier, of December 1st, contains the following particulars of Seward's visit to Pekin, and his reception by Prince Kung, and other magnates:

The Secretary, Admiral Rodgers and George F. Seward, the Consul-General, intimated their desire to pay a visit to the Tsungli-yamen, as representing the Chinese Government. A reply was received agreeing to the proposal, and appointing a time for their reception. On the day named, when they were about to start for the Yamen, a note was brought stating that Prince Kung had been suddenly seized with a violent colic and would be unable to see them; but the other members of the Yamen were awaiting them and would be happy to see them. It was for a moment a question whether they should not postpone their visit till Prince Kung's recovery was announced. But considering that their proposal had been a visit to the Tsungli-yamen and not to the Prince individually, they resolved to proceed; and were received by the members of the Yamen with great ceremony and apparent cordiality. They were profuse in their expressions of regret at the sudden indisposition which prevented the Prince from being present in person. The interview lasted a considerable time; all business was discarded; and the high officials, freed from the restraints of public affairs, carried their relaxation to the borders of festivity.

Next day Prince Kung sent to Seward a note full of regrets at his having failed to see the distinguished stranger the day before, and asked when it would be convenient for Seward and his party to receive a visit from him. They were then on the point of starting for the Great Wall, and replied that they would be happy to see him on their return. Accordingly, two days after they came back, the Prince came to see them at their quarters at the Russian Delegation, reiterated his apologies at great length, and expressed his gratitude to the Americans for their continued friendship, and especially his obligations to Seward in connection with the Burlingame Embassy and Treaty. He then inscribed his autograph in the album of one of the ladies of [illegible] and took his leave. Next day he [illegible] of magnificent presents—costly [illegible] vases, bronzes, silks, etc.

[illegible] had become familiar, through the dispatches and state papers of successive American Ministers at Pekin, with the name of Wen Siang—one of those political geniuses who [illegible] little outward bustle manage to control and direct mighty influences, and who all really was the great wire-puller of the government machine at Pekin. At the Tsungli-yamen Seward asked for him, and was told that, in consequence of declining health he had not been there for nearly two years. A note was sent to him asking whether his infirmity would prevent him from receiving a visit from Seward. His reply was that the smallness of his poor house, etc., made him unfit to receive so distinguished a guest, but if Seward would permit, he would visit them at their residence. A time being appointed, he came accordingly, and expressed great pleasure at seeing Seward, with whose antecedents and political importance he seemed well acquainted, and said that the thought of his friendliness to China was engraven on his (Wen-Siang's) heart and could never be effaced.

Threat to Farmers.

ALARMING SPREAD OF HOOF DISEASE IN NEW ENGLAND—DESCRIPTION OF THE SYMPTOMS.

The rapid spread of the hoof disease among the neat cattle of New England is a cause for alarm alike to cattle-breeders and to the consumers of milk and meat. The disease is the most infectious of all the [illegible] to which cattle are subject, and it spreads with surprising rapidity in any neighborhood where it may be introduced. It can be communicated to other animals, and it may be also to the human race, and the milk [illegible] affected by it has been used in some [illegible] with fatal effect.

[illegible] ago since Mr. Caleb Cushing, a young farmer at Bingham, bought a yoke of oxen at Brighton and drove them home. When they reached Hingham they were lame, and he took them to a blacksmith, when it was discovered that their hoofs were diseased. Within [illegible] not less than seventy head of [illegible] belonging to some of the choicest [illegible] Hingham, were affected by the new hoof disease. In some few instances sheep and [illegible] also affected. The citizens are adopting the most stringent measures to prevent the disease from spreading. Not only is the driving of cattle through the streets stopped, but no one are permitted to visit the stables where the sick cattle are, except those who have the care of them.

The hoof disease has made its appearance on seven farms in the town of Newbury. Yesterday the discovery was made that the cattle on a farm in the Bellevile parish of Newburyport, were affected by it. A few days ago a Newbury farmer visited the sick [illegible] a neighbor, and within a week three [illegible] cows were affected. The disease must have been carried in his clothes, as [illegible] cows have not been out of his barn.

The New Bedford Mercury says: "The cattle disease has made its appearance in Westport, Dartmouth, Little Compton and Tiverton and is creating great anxiety among the farmers in that vicinity. It appears to have been communicated to cattle at Westport from a yoke of oxen sold in that place by Mr. [illegible], Brighton dealer, and the disease has spread quite rapidly. The cattle of Mr. Timothy [illegible] were first attacked by the disorder, [illegible] conversation with his son, Mr. Geo C. [illegible] who was in this city yesterday, we learn [illegible] particulars of the disease in that vicinity. [illegible] the disease first appears at the upper edge of the hoof, the skin being blistered and the hair appearing greasy. In a few days separation commences between the hoofs and the flesh. The inside of the mouth becomes blistered, and the cattle drool a frothy mucous, with a slight show of blood. In some cases the blood turns black."—Boston Traveler, Jan. 7th.

A New Hampshire man is said to have sold his right to a "hair restorer" for $100,000, after making a small fortune by its manufacture.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE TAXing and killing of Dogs.

The city of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 2. Section 3. The Treasurer shall keep a suitable record of the licenses granted and on the expiration of the annual time for issuing licenses, shall give to the Chief of Police a list of the numbers on which licenses have been paid or renewed, and of the numbers which have not been renewed, and the names of owners or representatives of dogs bearing such unrenewed numbers.

Section 4. It shall be lawful for any person to seize any dog found running at large contrary to the provisions of this ordinance and deliver the same to a policeman, or person authorized by the Chief of Police to seize, kill and bury.

Section 6. Any person an inhabitant of this city, permitting any dog of which he is the owner or over which he has control, to go abroad in any of the streets, squares, lanes, alleys, or public places of this city, without having first paid the license required by this ordinance and having the number thereof stamped or engraved upon a collar upon such dog as hereinbefore provided, or who shall suffer or cause a collar and number to be put upon any dog with intent to avoid payment of license, shall upon conviction before the Police Judge, be subject to a fine not less than ten (10) nor more than fifty (50) dollars.

LAND DEPARTMENT
OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminus with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M February 16, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government: The party can leave the land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expense of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect.

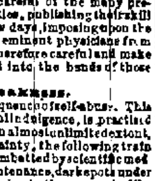
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, who has made private diseases his special study for years, and who ascertains to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co, a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union

All communications strictly confidential.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

No pay will be made for trips not performed, and for each of such omissions not satisfactorily explained three times the pay of the trip may be deducted. For arrivals so far behind time as to break connection with depending mails, and not sufficiently excused, one fourth of the compensation of the trip is subject to forfeiture. The Postmaster General may annul the contract for disobeying the Postoffice Laws, or the instructions of the Department. He may alter the schedule of departures and arrivals, and also order an increase of service by allowing therefor a pro rata increase on the contract pay. He may also curtail or discontinue the service in whole or in part, at a proportionate decrease of pay, allowing as full indemnity to the contractor one month's extra compensation on the amount of service dispensed with, and a pro rata compensation for the service retained and continued. THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

We have been led to make [illegible] remarks from the fact that the subject of [illegible] on the outskirts of this city and East Portland [illegible] discussed here among all classes, [illegible] "Riverside," just south of East Portland—has already been established. The site selected is a tract of land lying a little over a mile south of the ferry landing. It is shaped like the letter H, one side of which, a half mile in length, borders on the river.

From this portion of the homestead, which is [illegible] but a little above the other prong of the H, but is all forty or fifty feet above the river, can be had an extensive view of Portland, East Portland, the shipping, and the Willamette river for several [illegible]. The land is very fertile, and is partly covered with [illegible] timber. A tract of land just wide enough for [illegible] of blocks with an avenue between them, connects the west prong of the H (which has already been described), with that on the east. This last tract of land is a beautiful little valley, which is now under a high state of cultivation. Through its whole length runs a trout brook, the water of which is clear as crystal. With a hydraulic ram the Association proposes to have water conveyed through pipes to every portion of the homestead.—Daily Bulletin.
